the candidate of another political party for president.

If an attempt should be made to have the conference endorse the candidacy of President Wilson for re-election, there is every indicaion that it will be voted down.

Lack of available candidates for president appears to be one of the most potent arguments of the minority against the calling of another national convention.

Secretary Hopkins called the roll of the states, and reports indicated that every state represented a majority of the Progressives disapprov ed of the action of the National Committee, in endorsing Hughes and favored putting a national ticket in the field if practicable.

U. S. CAPITOL IS AT LAST COMPLETED

The laying of the final stone shown in the photograph completed the construction of the national capitol, which for more than 50 years has been unfinished. This was the last step in the construction of the pediment of the east wing of the house of representatives, a companion piece to the pediments over the main entrance and the senate wing. This portion of the house wing has been blank since the wing was nominally completed in 1857. An appropriation of $75,000 in 1908 provided for the final work of construction. This final pediment has been constructed by Paul Bartlett, who calls the design "The Democracy of the United States as Expressed by the Types of the Working People.'

London, Aug. 3 .- A thrilling race between an officer of the Flying Corps in an aeroplane and swallow caused him to doubt whether their was correct.

"I was up in the air last week one day when I observed a swallow flying high in front of me," he said. "I resolved to test its speed. went out full after it, and the swallow also put on full speed. The bird dived; so did I. It went up, and I followed. We were at it hammer and tongs for a quarter of an hour, diving, raising and racing and I gained on it by foot. Finally one of the wires on my machine struck the bird and it went down. I was sorry and felt selfish thus to take the bird's life for sport."

General Funston, in a telegram to the War Department, ices not mince words in expressing his disapproval of the wurse of certain newspaper reporters in continually finding fault with army conditions and making the most sensational ports of matters of no real consequence.

General Funston very properly announces that hereafter will bar all such writers from the military camps and will whise to permit them to accompany the army on the march.

The people of the United States are in no mood to accept cidly columns of yellow and sensational reports, regarding Reservation Comprises 5,000 Acres on the army from youngsters armed with pad and pencil and intructed to find out only the sensational and failing to find such a conditions, to make them out of their own imaginations and they are heartily in accord with the adoption of the Desert Island, Maine, was announced rigorous policy which General Funston proposes to put into

One of the most unfortunate conditions which can befall a nation is a scandal in connection with army management. We crime is more reprehensible than a fraud against the solders and when such a crime is committed the offenders should wisited with most severe punishment.

May Be Only a Dream

That's a glorious possibility which Prof. Muensterberg es coming after the end of the war in Europe—an alliance of Great Britain, Germany and the United States.

It is the belief of the learned Muensterberg that such an alliance would be able to demand and maintain world wide Mace—that with such a combination of nations operating uner a satisfactory and complete agreement no other nation and no other alliance of nations would be able to oppose them

Of course, the three nations mentioned are the great lowers of the earth in thought and action-they represent the most advanced thought and, with Germany's military Party destroyed, the greatest freedom and liberty to human-They are the great democratic nations of the world.

Just why such an alliance should be limited to three is not ast exactly clear, however. Why not include the great tench republic, the heroic Belgians, the Russian Empire al-Mady, under Czar Nicholas, extending the liberties of the Rusnan people, and so on. The more nations included in the heat alliance for peace and the advancement of civilizaon and liberty of men the better—the more certain the realts would be.

Bar possibly the objection that the representative board composed of one from each nation to prepare the agreement under which the nations are to operate would be more cumberme with a larger membership, we favor the more compreensive plan.

With three such staunch believers in the independence of Hen as President Wilson, Lloyd George and Von Bethmannollweg, directing the affairs of their respective nations an loans admirable working agreement should result from the efforts. This idea may all be a dream, but it is a beautiful dream and it is pleasant to dream on until facts compel us to wake deposits.

Washington, Aug. 3 .- Representative Borland of Missouri renewed his the house. He demanded action on his resolution proposing an investigation of meat prices by the federal trade commission.

Mr. Borland declared the packers are dividing enormous dividends while they charge consumers war prices, and had tried to stifle the proposal for an inquiry because they feared publicity.

The Borland resolution, he pointed cut, now had been before the judiciary committee for six months. during which live stock prices had been going steadily upward.

"The same power which could put down the cattle market in 1915, and put it up while this resolution was pending, could put it down again if the resolution were defeated," he said I nearly everything that is valuable in connection with the live stock bust buyer for the farmers' cattle, but they also control facilities for getting those cattle on the market.

> Mr. Borland declared that in 1913 "while the consumer was paying war prices." the Swift company's dividends amounted to 18.7 per cent of its capital stock, the Armour company's 55 per cent; Morris company's, 77.3 per cent, and Cudahy company's 17.5 per cent. At the same time, he said, the meat producing industry had been managed so disadvantageously that there were only 37,000,000 head of cattle in the country last year, compared with 50,000,000 in 1900.

Magio Italian Lakes.

Every one knows how beautiful the Italian lakes are and how luxuriant is the vegetation on their banks. This is due to a large extent to the heat absorbed in summer by the water, stored up and given out slowly in cold weather.

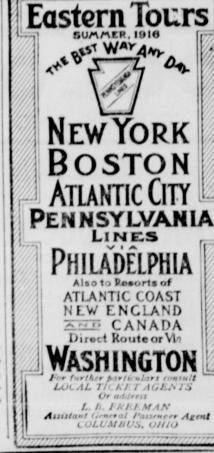

A calculation has been made by a scientist named Vercelli. He estimates that Lake Como has an area of 136 square kilometers and an average depth

Diving Birds.

Water birds which are ordinarily able to float high on the water can also sink at will by expelling the air which is inclosed within the film of feathers surrounding their bodies, thus making them heavier than water. This mechanical trick on the part of diving birds is probably familiar to all who have watched the kingfisher at close quarters and have noted the sudden contraction in the bird's apparent size as it takes the plunge. This is much more easily observed in the case of the starling, which sometimes imitates the kingfisher by plunging into water for food. The shrinkage of the bird in apparent size is very apparent when, after hovering above the surface, 16 turns downward to dive.

DUCKS DO HIS ANGLING.

With Line and Hook to Their Legs They Bring In Fish From Lake. Leitchfield, Ky.-Henry Cecil of Cecilia in a lake near his home has devised a most successful and novel way to catch fish, according to Roy Bond.

Cecil has a number of ducks that free quent this lake. He ties a short fish. for a drive Mrs. Schlessinger made ing line to the duck's foot with the hook baited. The duck swims about the lake, fishing all over it. When a fish strikes he pulls the duck's leg, and Mr. Duck, not understanding what this means, turns and flees to the shore just as fast as he can. Cecil takes off the fish, rebaits the hook and throws the duck back into the lake to renew the fishing. He has a number of ducks fishing for him at the same time and has caught 100 pounds of fish this way.

Science In the Home. Home is the halfway house between earth and heaven. As such it needs the practical and the ideal, both con bined, more than any other human in stitution. The earth side of a home must be absolutely practical, and the heaven side must be absolutely ideal if the home is to be a home.

There is more need for science in the home than for science anywhere else Not because science is the most important thing in the home, but because the most neglected thing is always the most important. The average home a conglomeration of guesswork, patchwork and overwork. The guesswork the fault of the man, the overwork of the woman, the patchwork of them both. Send Communication to Washington Urging Intervention In the Controversy Between the Railroads and the Brotherhoods-Federal Board of Mediation Expecting Call When Strike Vote Is Canvassed.

Washington, Aug. 3 .- Developments In the controversy between 225 rallway systems and their 400,000 employes are being closely watched by President Wilson and other heads of the government.

These officials are preparing to offer every possible aid in effecting an agreement and avoiding a strike.

The president forwarded to the labor department an appeal he had received from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States through Harry A. Wheeler, chairman of the chamber's committee on railroads, declaring a strike is inevitable "unless some strong measures of intervention are speedily introduced," and urging an inquiry. Acting Secretary of Labor Post said he was in close touch with the situation, but had not decided whether action by the department would be necessary.

The federal board of mediation and conciliation, which is authorized by law to attempt to avert strikes on railroads, also is keeping a watch of developments, and its officials expect to be called as soon as the strike vote. now being counted, has been completely canvassed. They said that nothing could be done at present.

Copies of the chamber's appeal to the president were forwarded to chairmen of the congressional commerce committees and to representatives of out detection by the allied cruisers. the railroads and the employes. The The submarine and the Timmins were chamber is considering calling a conference here to impress congress with the advisability of immediate action.

Mr. Wheeler said he had recently attended a meeting of representatives of the employers and employes in New York, and that as a result his conviction was deepened that an amicable settlement was remote.

Hough Says Guardsmen Will Go When Equipped.

Columbus, Aug. 3. - Additional equipment continues to arrive slowly at Camp Willis from federal arsenals The latest consignment consisted of 26 12-inch rules for field desks. Officers have no word as to when the needed supply of extra shoes will be sent. Until this arrives none of the regiments will be reported as ready to

It was announced that soldiers of voting age who will be able to go home and return the same day will be granted permission to go back to cast their ballot at Tuesday's primary election. Less than two-thirds of the guardsmen are of voting age.

Before leaving Washington for Columbus Adjutant General Hough said and will be 83,000,000 bushels short of he had been unable to get any information as to when the Ohio units will be ordered to the Texas border. "But I am convinced." he added, "that they will be sent when they are fully equipped and ready."

Favorable news was obtained by General Hough in regard to equipment that will be needed by the Onio troops at home. When the call came for service in Mexico, requisitions placed by Quartermaster Duffy were canceled. Under an arrangement agreed upon new requisitions will be made out and the supplies will be issued.

The Fourth regiment lost 18 men under the dependent order. Tais leaves the unit with 1,203 officers and men, the largest regiment at Camp Willis. Other regiments which originally outnumbered the Fourth lost more heavily through the physical ex: PAUL KOENIG

Only one allied warship was seen off the capes. It was a two-funneled cruiser flying the British naval ensign. Passing vessels reported that there were two peculiar buoys near her. This gave rise to some speculation as to the possibility that a net had been flung across the channel, but pilots familiar with the waters did not

The submarine apparently was unobserved by the allied warship patrol. Whether she submerged before reaching the three mile limit is not known. The two accompanying boats only and that to all appearances she had could completely submerge in safety.

Half an hour after the last light of the Deutschland had disappeared, the Timmins, seemingly satisfied with her work, turned back and headed up Chesapeake bay in the direction of

REVOKE LICENSES

Washington, Aug. 3 .- The executive board of the four railroad brotherhoods, which are threatening a strike of 400,000 railroad men throughout the nation, and the general committee of the roads have agreed to resumption of conferences in New York Aug. 8, according to information received at the United States board of mediation and conciliation. That these conferences may be productive of an amicable settlement of the giant controversy is forecast by Commissioner Chambers of the board.

The strike vote of the trainmen, who demand an eight hour day in freight service, with time and a half for overtime, is now being counted in New York. The result, said to be overwhelmingly in favor of a strike, will be announced Aug. 7.

Miss Sidney woke as Gloria expected, sprawled as well as Gloria hoped, her feet on high and the rug waving in air. She knew who played the trick and ran into Gloria's room. She saw that the bed was empty, the sleeping suit tossed aside, the dinner gown gone. She flung into her bathrobe and ran to give the alarm to Gloria's father. Her costume made a sensation even among the sensational costumes of Palm Beach. She found Pierpont playing cards with young Dr. Royce.

What she told them sent them runing in opposite directions, frightening the dancers and the loiterers about the tables in the gardens and various couples surprised in loving embraces among the inviting nooks.

On the lawn the two men came together and shook their heads in signal of failure. They saw David and Lois. David mentioned the loss of his automobile. A BOY'S STRANGE ESCAPE.

Thrown on Him.

London.-One of the most extraordipary experiences was gone through recently by an English boy in woodland fighting in the region of Bazentin-le-Grand and Longueval.

He now lies in a field hospita! smiling because the world seems to him like paradise after an infernal dwelling place.

He went with the first rush of men into Mametz wood, but was left far behind in a dugout when they retired German soldiers passed this hole where the boy lay crouched and flung a bomb down on the off chance that English roldiers might be there. NOW IT'S "SWAT THE WEED."

Arkansas Begins Campaign to Protect Soils From Useless Growths.

Favetteville, Ark .- "Swat 'em" applies to other things in Arkansas besides the fly. A campaign against weeds was announced recently by the extension division of the University of Arkansas, with the terse advice: "Swat 'em and save future labor and soll fertility and soil moisture." Weeds may cost a community or state millions of dollars, according to en extension division bulletin. Spread of weeds is said to be due to carelessness. After farmers let weeds ripen the seeds are scattered by travelers or birds or are sold with hay to infest other neighborhoods. The bulletin urges children be taught to "swat" weeds and never let one ripen to seed.

It was General Brussiloff who commanded an army in the first Carpathian campaign when the Russians were ready to pour down into Hungary but were forced to retreat for lack of ammunition. Unlike many Russian generals. Brussiloff had the advantages of an excellent education and began army life in a fashionable cavalry regiment. Ability and influence combined to make his advancement rapid. He held many positions, was recognized a favorite at court, distinguished himself as a daring rider, encouraged eavalry officers to go in for polo and cross-country steel chases and was popular in Petrograd society. Then came the war to try out the capacity and characters of men. Brussiloff was one of the studious, professional type of officers who came to the front and made good.

Reason to Be Angry

General Funston, in a telegram to the War Department, does not mince words in expressing his disapproval of the ourse of certain newspaper reporters in continually finding fault with army conditions and making the most sensational reports of matters of no real consequence.

General Funston very properly announces that hereafter will bar all such writers from the military camps and will rise to permit them to accompany the army on the march. The people of the United States are in no mood to accept dacidly columns of yellow and sensational reports, regarding Reservation Comprises 5,000 Acres on he army from youngsters armed with pad and pencil and instructed to find out only the sensational and failing to find such a conditions, to make them out of their own imaginations river, comprising 5,000 acres on Mount and they are heartily in accord with the adoption of the Desert Island, Maine, was announced igorous policy which General Funston proposes to put into

One of the most unfortunate conditions which can befall a nation is a scandal in connection with army management. To crime is more reprehensible than a fraud against the solders and when such a crime is committed the offenders should wisited with most severe punishment.

Scarcely less despicable than the crime itself, is the upsart news writer who, without basis in fact, circulates reports that deplorable conditions exist.

Unfortunately the law does not provide punishment for such an off-oder and the only recourse left is to "drum him out of camp."

May Be Only a Dream

That's a glorious possibility which Prof. Muensterberg sees coming after the end of the war in Europe—an alliance of Great Britain, Germany and the United States.

It is the belief of the learned Muensterberg that such an alliance would be able to demand and maintain world wide Peace—that with such a combination of nations operating under a satisfactory and complete agreement no other nation and no other alliance of nations would be able to oppose them

Of course, the three nations mentioned are the great lowers of the earth in thought and action-they represent the most advanced thought and, with Germany's military Party destroyed, the greatest freedom and liberty to human-They are the great democratic nations of the world.

Just why such an alliance should be limited to three is not 18st exactly clear, however. Why not include the great rench republic, the heroic Belgians, the Russian Empire already, under Czar Nicholas, extending the liberties of the Rus-Man people, and so on. The more nations included in the Treat alliance for peace and the advancement of civilizaand liberty of men the better—the more certain the results would be.

Bar possibly the objection that the representative board composed of one from each nation to prepare the agreement under which the nations are to operate would be more cumberome with a larger membership, we favor the more comprelensive plan.

With three such staunch believers in the independence of men as President Wilson, Lloyd George and Von Bethmanndollweg, directing the affairs of their respective nations an loans.

admirable working agreement should result from the efforts. This idea may all be a dream, but it is a beautiful dream and it is pleasant to dream on until facts compel us to wake deposits. Write or call for

WILL THE LIGHTS BE WHITE

Oft when I feel my engine swerve, As o'er strange rails we fare, strain my eyes around the curve

When swift and free she carries me Through yards unknown at night, look along the line to see That all the lamps are white.

The blue light marks the crippled

The green light signals 'Slow! The red light is a danger light. The white light, 'Let her go!'

Again the open fields we roam, And when the night is fair,

For who can speak of those

Behind the curving sky? No man has ever lived to tell Just what it means to die. Swift toward life's terminal I trend, The run seems short tonight, I hope the lamps are white." -Cy Warman.

Borland Wants Action on His Resolution.

MAKES SPEECH IN HOUSE

Declares Among Other Things That the Packers Are Dividing Enormous Dividends While the Consumers Are Paying War Prices For Meats. Claims Efforts Are Being Made to Stifle Public Investigation.

Washington, Aug. 3 .- Representative Borland of Missouri renewed his charges of a beef trust in a speech to the house. He demanded action on his resolution proposing an investigation of meat prices by the federal trade commission.

Mr. Borland declared the packers are dividing enormous dividends while they charge consumers war prices, and had tried to stifle the proposal for an inquiry because they feared pub-

The Borland resolution, he pointed out, now had been before the judiciary committee for six months, during which live stock prices had been going steadily upward.

"The same power which could put down the cattle market in 1915, and put it up while this resolution was pending, could put it down again if the resolution were defeated," he said. "The packers now own or control nearly everything that is valuable in connection with the live stock business. Not only are they the sole buyer for the farmers' cattle, but they also control facilities for getting those cattle on the market

"The packers began a country-wide propaganda among commission men and cattle raisers to secure letters opposing the investigation resolution. They feel that the white light of publicity is the principal weapon for correction of economic wrongs. If they expect to gain public confidence by that the result is exactly the oppo-

Mr. Borland declared that in 1917, 'while the consumer was paying war prices." the Swift company's dividends amounted to 18.7 per cent of its capital stock, the Armour company's 55 per cent: Morris company's, 77.3 per cent, and Cudahy company's 17.3 per cent. At the same time, he said, the meat producing industry had been managed so disadvantageously that there were only 37,000,000 head of cattle in the country last year, compared with 50,000,000 in 1900.

Magic Italian Lakes.

Every one knows how beautiful the Italian lakes are and how luxuriant is the vegetation on their banks. This is due to a large extent to the heat absorbed in summer by the water, stored up and given out slowly in cold weather.

A calculation has been made by a scientist named Vercelli. He estimates that Lake Como has an area of 136 square kilometers and an average depth of about 600 feet. In some places the depth is twice that.

During midsummer this mass of water absorbs each bright day an amount of beat equal to that produced by burn-St. Clairsville, O., Aug. 3.—Colonel ing 34,000 tons of coal. This storing February until the water reaches its Diving Birds.

Water birds which are ordinarily able to float high on the water can also sink at will by expelling the air which is inclosed within the film of feathers surrounding their bodies, thus making them heavier than water. This mechanical trick on the part of diving birds is probably familiar to all who have watched the kingfisher at close quarters and have noted the sudden contraction in the bird's apparent size as it takes the plunge. This is much more easily observed in the case of the starling, which sometimes imitates the kingfisher by plunging into water for food. The shrinkage of the bird in apparent size is very apparent when, after hovering above the surface, is turns downward to dive.

Send Communication to Washington Urging Intervention In the Controversy Between the Railroads and the Brotherhoods-Federal Board of Mediation Expecting Call When Strike Vote Is Canvassed.

Washington, Aug. 3.—Developments In the controversy between 225 railway systems and their 400,000 employes are being closely watched by President Wilson and other heads of the government.

These officials are preparing to offer every possible aid in effecting an agreement and avoiding a strike.

The president forwarded to the la bor department an appeal he had received from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States through Harry A. Waeeler, chairman of the chamber's committee on railroads, declaring a strike is inevitable "unless some strong measures of intervention are speedily introduced," and urging an inquiry. Acting Secretary of Labor Post said he was in close touch with the situation, but had not decided whether action by the department would be necessary

The federal board of mediation and conciliation, which is authorized by law to attempt to avert strikes on railroads, also is keeping a watch of developments, and its officials expect to be called as soon as the strike vote. now being counted, has been completely canvassed. They said that nothing could be done at present.

Copies of the chamber's appeal to the president were forwarded to chairmen of the congressional commerce committees and to representatives of out detection by the allied cruisers. the railroads and the employes. The chamber is considering calling a conference here to impress congress with the advisability of immediate action.

Favorable news was obtained by General Hough in regard to equipment that will be needed by the Ohio troops at home. When the call came for service in Mexico, requisitions placed by Quartermaster Duffy were canceled. Under an arrangement agreed upon new requisitions will be made out and the supplies will be issued.

The Fourth regiment lost 18 men under the dependent order. This leaves the unit with 1,203 officers and men, the largest regiment at Camp Willis. Other regiments which originally outnumbered the Fourth lost more heavily through the physical examinations.

London, Aug. 3.—German airships again raided the English coast. It was the third raid of the week.

Early this morning the squadron flew over the eastern counties, dropping bombs. An official communication, issued here, says: "A number of airships crossed the coast of the eastern counties shortly after midnight. Some bombs were dropped at various places."

The armies in the three great centers of recent activity-the Somme region of France, Russia and Galicia evidently have let up considerably have been engaged and are indulging in a breathing spell preparatory to further attacks and counter attacks. The official communication dealing with the operations in these theaters tell of no single important engagement or of any notable changes in the positions of any of the belligerents.

Attacking in Echlon on a three mile line from the Meuse river to Fleury, north of Verdun, the French have captured several German trenches and organized points of support. In the engagement 600 Germans were made prisoners and ten machine guns were

Washington, Aug. 3.—The executive board of the four railroad brotherhoods, which are threatening a strike of 400,000 railroad men throughout the nation, and the general committee of the roads have agreed to resumption of conferences in New York Aug. 8, according to information received at the United States board of mediation and conciliation. That these conferences may be productive of an amicable settlement of the giant controversy is forecast by Commissioner Chambers of the board.

The strike vote of the trainmen, who demand an eight hour day in freight service, with time and a half for overtime, is now being counted in New York. The result, said to be overwhelmingly in favor of a strike, will be announced Aug. 7.

Little Miss Stafford wandering in a silk frock through the jungle of the everglades at midnight did not even know that she was lost. The terrors that were in store for her, she was not imagining. She was still giggling over her imaginations of the excitement at Palm Beach when her governess discovered that she had run

Miss Sidney woke as Gloria expected, sprawled as well as Gloria hoped, her feet on high and the rug waving in air. She knew who played the trick and ran into Gloria's room. She saw that the bed was empty, the sleeping suit tossed aside, the dinner gown gone. She flung into her bathrobe and ran to give the alarm to Gloria's father. Her costume made a sensation even among the sensational costumes of Palm Beach. She found Pierpont playing cards with young Dr. Royce.

But Dr. Royce had been speaking of Gloria's rebellious heart only that afternoon. He ran at once to a parking space where automobiles where kept. The chauffeurs were not about and he did not pause to haggle. He threw away a "For Hire" card and, leaping into the saddle, so to speak, of a six cylinder thoroughbred, dug his spurs into its side and plied the lash. The car broke into such a run that its own chauffeur did not recognize it as it shot into the main road. Royce checked his speed only when he met occasional saunterers along the roads.

From most of these he got no information. From one negro on a bicycle chair he had the comforting answer:

"Yassa, I done seen a bar headed young missy in a auterbile licketty split-yassa. She turned sothe at the next corner. If I hadn't a throwed this year wheel over mighty peart

Lies In Dugout While Bombs Are Thrown on Him.

London .-- One of the most extraordinary experiences was gone through recently by an English boy in woodland fighting in the region of Bazentin-le-Grand and Longueval.

He now lies in a field hospita! smiling because the world seems to him like paradise after an infernal dwelling place.

He went with the first rush of men into Mametz wood, but was left far behind in a dugout when they retired German soldiers passed this hole where the boy lay crouched and flung a bomb down on the off chance that English roldiers might be there. It burst on the lower steps and wounded the lonely boy in the dark corner. He lay there A day listening to the crash of shells through the trees overhead-English fire-not daring to come out. Then in the night he heard the voice of his own countrymen, and he shouted loudly, but as the English soldiers passed they threw bombs into the dugout.

He lay there another day. The gunfire began all over again and lasted until the Germans came back. Another German soldier saw the old hole. threw bombs down as the safe thing o do, and the boy received a third wound. He lay in the darkness one more day, not expecting to live, but still alive, still eager to live and to see the light again. If only the English would come again and rescue him! He prayed for them to come, and when they came, capturing the wood completely and finally, one of them, seeing the entrance of the dugout and thinking the Germans might be hiding there, threw a bomb down, and the boy was wounded a fourth time. This time his cries were heard, the monotonous repetition of this ill luck ended, and he was rescued.

NOW IT'S "SWAT THE WEED."

Arkansas Begins Campaign to Protect Soils From Useless Growths.

Fayetteville, Ark .- "Swat 'em" applies to other things in Arkansas besides the fly. A campaign against weeds was announced recently by the extension division of the University of Arkansas, with the terse advice: "Swat 'em and save future labor and soil fertility and soil moisture."

Weeds may cost a community or state millions of dollars, according to an extension division bulletin. Spread of weeds is said to be due to carelessness. After farmers let weeds ripen the seeds are scattered by travelers or birds or are sold with hay to infest other neighborhoods. The bulletin urges children be taught to "swat" weeds and never let one ripen to seed.
